

FULLY BOOKED / JIMMY AS A SERVICE

Jimmy automates the bookings. He still has to do the work.

A delighted entrepreneur becomes an exhausted dinosaur at a six-year-old's breakfast table. His own cheerful sales video keeps promising he loves every minute.

25 shots / 191 generated seconds / approximately 3m 20s with callback and cards.

VOICE: conversational South London; medium pitch, reedy/nasal upper edge, slightly rough texture. Excited at first, then baffled, furious and finally hollowed out. No bass-voiced gangster caricature.

The reference interviews are linked in the accompanying source notes. Their audio downloads were blocked; voice resemblance remains a review question. This is a synthetic performance, not a real endorsement.
